Leadership Development Series for current and aspiring chorus and regional leaders

All choruses have the knowledge and experience required to excel, but it's the ability to integrate these elements and tune individual talents to common goals that creates success and attracts and retains members. Creating such an environment is a call for leadership.

We are pleased to share Region 34's exciting new Leadership development programme
with our current and aspiring chorus and regional leaders.

Join Sharon Cartwright, Dianne James and Linda Britts in this series of interactive online workshops* that will grow your leadership skills and provide opportunities for you to connect with other chorus administrative and musical leaders from across New Zealand.

You are welcome to join for the full programme or select those topics which are most relevant to you right now.

There is no registration fee for this programme.
